(1) Overview of MIP Application

NOTE: The following questions and answers are only meant to provide general information about MIP and may not cater for your particular circumstances. All MIP applications are subject to assessment and approval by the HKMCI on case-by-case basis. In case you have any queries, you are advised to contact the MIP banks and/or our customer hotline.

Some of the following questions and answers may not be applicable to particular mortgage insurance arrangements:

- The questions with * are not applicable to Starter Homes Pilot Project and Starter Homes Project
- The questions with # are not applicable to subsidised sale flats under the Home Ownership Scheme Secondary Market Scheme of the Hong Kong Housing Authority.

Please refer to the relevant section of this FAQ and the Insurance Eligibility Criteria for the particular programme for details and / or contact the MIP banks or our customer hotline.

Section A: What does the Mortgage Insurance Programme (MIP) cover?

1. ^{##}What is the maximum property value¹ for the MIP loan?

^{##}The maximum property value² for the MIP loan is HK$17.15 million for completed residential properties and properties under construction. For property value above HK$17.15 million and up to HK$30 million, please refer to the links below:

- (a) Eligibility Criteria for 70% Mortgage Insurance Programme \(for property value up to HK\$30 million\) ^;
- (b) Eligibility Criteria for 70% Mortgage Insurance Programme - Village House \(for property value up to HK\$30 million\) ^.

^ Only applicable for provisional agreements for sale and purchase executed before 16 October 2024

2. What is the maximum tenor¹ for the MIP loan?

The maximum tenor for the MIP loan is 30 years.

3. ^{##}What are the maximum loan-to-value (LTV) ratio¹ and maximum loan amount¹?

^{##}The maximum loan amount is determined by reference to the maximum LTV ratio and the property value².

For completed residential properties and properties under construction (irrespective of the execution dates of the provisional agreements for sale and purchase) with property value² below HK$11.25 million, the maximum loan amount shall either be (a) calculated at the maximum LTV ratio of 80% and up to 90%³ or (b) capped at HK$9 million, whichever is lower. If the property value² is at or above HK$11.25 million (up to the cap of HK$15 million), the maximum loan amount shall be calculated at the maximum LTV ratio of 80%. For property value² above HK$15 million and up to HK$17.15 million, the maximum loan amount shall be calculated at the maximum LTV ratio of 80%, subject to a loan cap of HK$12 million. For property value² above HK$17.15 million and up to HK$30 million, please refer to Q1 for details.

¹ For the maximum property value, maximum tenor, maximum LTV ratio and maximum loan amount in respect of cash-out refinancing loan, please refer to “Eligibility Criteria for 80% Mortgage Insurance Programme for Cash-out Refinancing” of the HKMCI website for details.

² The lower of (a) the appraised value of the Property and (b) the purchase price of the Property as stated in the sale and purchase agreement (less the amount of any incentive). (b) is not applicable to refinancing loans.

You can refer to the “Maximum LTV Ratio” of the HKMCI website for details.
https://www.hkmc.com.hk/eng/our_business/mortgage_insurance_programme.html

4. *# I intend to buy a property for HK$18 million from secondary market. Can I apply for an MIP loan? What is the maximum LTV ratio?

*# For property value² above HK$17.15 million and up to HK$30 million, the MIP loan is only applicable to those obligors borrowed or guaranteed outstanding mortgage loans for one or more properties at the time of application and transactions with sale and purchase agreement signed before 16 October 2024. The maximum LTV ratio is 70%.

Section B: Am I eligible for an MIP loan? What are the eligibility criteria?

B1. Eligibility Criteria

5. What are the Eligibility Criteria of MIP?

05/2025

Please note that if the underlying sale and purchase transaction involves dealing between the related parties or partial transfer of ownership between the seller(s) and buyer(s) resulting in cash-out refinancing arrangement in substance, you can refer to the eligibility criteria of item (a)(iii) under Eligibility Criteria for Owner-occupied Residential Properties (for provisional agreements for sale and purchase executed on or after 16 October 2024) above. You can also make use of the pre-approval services offered by the HKMCI by submitting your application through the participating banks to assess your eligibility.

B2. Owner Occupancy

6. I intend to buy a property for investment purpose. Can I apply for an MIP loan?

No. The property must be owner-occupied. If you have owned another residential property at the time of MIP loan application, you must disclose in writing the current and intended usage and occupancy of such property upon MIP application.

7. What should I do to support that the property is to be self-occupied?

You are required to make declaration on the property usage (together with documentary proof if necessary) at the time of MIP loan application and loan drawdown, as well as at certain prescribed point(s) in time to support that the property is for self-occupancy (making false declaration may incur civil and criminal liability). The HKMCI also reserves the right to make such request at any time after the loan drawdown and before the lapse of MIP cover. In general, if you do not fulfil the owner occupancy requirement, the bank has the right to demand full payment of the MIP loan.

B3. Debt-to-Income Ratio

8. What is the maximum debt-to-income (DTI) ratio?

The maximum DTI ratio is generally 50%^{Note}. For sale and purchase agreements signed before 16 October 2024, you can refer to “Eligibility Criteria for Owner-Occupied Residential Properties” of the HKMCI website for details.

https://www.hkmc.com.hk/eng/our_business/mortgage_insurance_program_me.html

Note:- The maximum DTI ratio is 40% if any one of the obligors has already borrowed or guaranteed outstanding mortgage loans for one or more properties at the time of application with sale and purchase agreement signed before 16 Oct 2024.

B3.1 Income

9. I am the owner of another property in Hong Kong. Are rental proceeds received from my tenant deemed as income in the calculation of DTI ratio?

Yes. Subject to the provision of a valid tenancy agreement and rental deposit records, the lower of (a) 80% of the rental income and (b) the discounted amount of rental income after the haircut imposed by the MIP bank will be taken into account for the purpose of DTI calculation. Since you are owning another property, you will likely be asked to provide additional justifications and/or documentary proof to satisfy both the MIP bank and HKMCI that the MIP property is for self-occupancy.

10. Are discretionary bonuses counted as part of my income in the calculation of DTI ratio?

Yes. Subject to the provision of sufficient documentary proof, discretionary bonuses are capped at three times of your monthly salary, in general, for DTI ratio calculation.

11. Does my commission income count in calculating DTI ratio?

In general, the monthly average of commission income for the last six months will be taken into consideration, and you are required to provide the latest six months' payroll slips and bank records for verification.

12. ^{*#}Can I have my friend act as my guarantor to support my application?

^{*#}No. For the purpose of supporting the DTI ratio calculation, the guarantor must be an immediate family member, relative or fiancé/fiancée of the borrower/mortgagor.

B3.2 Debt Repayment

13. What does debt repayment include?

Debt repayment includes all monthly repayments relating to mortgage loans and all other financial obligations. These include, without limitation, repayments for personal loans, co-financing loans provided by property developers, and credit advanced from banks or other financial institutions.

14. If I am the guarantor of another loan, will the monthly instalment be included as debt repayment for calculation of DTI ratio?

Yes, such monthly instalment will be included as debt repayment for DTI ratio calculation.

15. I pay a rental expense for my current residence. Will the expense be included in the amount of debt repayment?

The rental expense of your current residence, in general, will not be included as debt repayment.

B4. Down Payment

16. Is there any restriction on the source of the down payment funds? Do I need to provide down payment proof?

The down payment for purchasing the property must be paid from your own assets and must not have been financed by way of any loan or banking/credit facility.

You might be asked to provide evidence of savings or assets as down payment proof if you:

- (a) are currently utilising any overdraft facility;
- (b) have applied for and/or drawn down on any loan facility within three months prior to the MIP loan application; or
- (c) have paid the down payment by credit card.

Apart from the above situations, you might also be asked to provide down payment proof at the request of the HKMCI subject to your particular circumstances.

Section C: Am I eligible for an MIP loan with an LTV ratio above 80%?

17. ^{##} What are the eligibility criteria for applying an MIP loan with an LTV ratio above 80%? What are the maximum loan amount and property value?

^{##} You are required to fulfil all of the following requirements for applying an MIP loan with an LTV ratio above 80%:

- (a) you are not holding any residential properties in Hong Kong at the time of application; and
- (b) you are a regular-salaried employee.

The maximum property value² is below HK$11.25 million (subject to the maximum loan amount of HK$9 million) for completed residential properties and properties under construction.

You can refer to the “Eligibility Criteria for Owner-occupied Residential Properties” of the HKMCI website for details.

https://www.hkmc.com.hk/eng/our_business/mortgage_insurance_programme.html

18. Am I classified as a regular salaried employee and eligible for an MIP loan with an LTV ratio above 80% if my salary is calculated on a daily basis?

In general, an employee with salary calculated on a daily basis can be classified as a regular salaried employee provided that it is not paid on a commission basis.

To be eligible for an MIP loan with an LTV ratio above 80%, please refer to Q17 for details.

19. My salary includes basic salary and commission; am I eligible for an MIP loan with an LTV ratio above 80%?

05/2025

Generally speaking, you are eligible for an MIP loan with an LTV ratio above 80% provided that the DTI ratio requirement can be fulfilled based on your basic salary alone.

To be eligible for an MIP loan with an LTV ratio above 80%, please refer to Q17 for details.

20. I have signed a provisional sale and purchase agreement to sell out my existing property at the time of application; am I eligible for an MIP loan with an LTV ratio above 80%?

You are not eligible for an MIP loan with an LTV ratio above 80% unless you can provide the assignment (or such other documents accepted by the HKMCI⁴) of your existing property to confirm that the sale transaction has been completed at the time of application.

Section D: What are the eligible property types, and how is the property value determined?

21. What are the types of properties eligible for an MIP loan?

To be eligible for an MIP loan, the property (secured by the first legal charge or the equitable mortgage) must be a residential property located in Hong Kong. For village houses, the following are not eligible:

- (a) village houses under construction;
- (b) properties registered in the name of “Tso” or “Tong”; and
- (c) village houses with alienation restrictions.

22. Is there any limit on the age of the property?

There is no limit on the age of the property; however, the maximum sum of loan tenor and age of property (except a village house) is 75 years. For a village house property, the maximum sum of loan tenor and age of property is 55 years.

23. Can I apply for an MIP loan if my property is registered in the name of a company?

No. To be eligible for an MIP loan, your property must be registered in the name of one or more natural persons.

24. How is the property value determined by the HKMCI?

The HKMCI will conduct valuation for each MIP loan application and compare it with the bank's valuation and the purchase price. The lowest value will be taken as the property value.

Section E: How to apply?

25. [#]What are required documents for MIP loan application?

[#]In general, the following documents are required from the applicant(s):

- (a) a copy of Hong Kong identity card;
- (b) a copy of provisional sales and purchase agreement (if available); and
- (c) income proof

26. How to submit my MIP loan application?

You can submit your MIP loan application to the HKMCI through the participating banks.

\(List of Participating Banks\)

27. When should I submit my MIP loan application?

You can submit your application after signing the Provisional Sales and Purchase Agreement.

Subject to the support of individual participating banks, the HKMCI also offers pre-approval services to the prospective homebuyers who can thus know their eligibility for the MIP loan before buying a property. Interested homebuyers can submit their applications and the required documents to the HKMCI through the participating banks before signing the Provisional Sales and Purchase Agreement. You can refer to “Pre-Approval Service” of the HKMCI website for details.

https://www.hkmc.com.hk/eng/our_business/mortgage_insurance_program_me.html

28. How can I follow up on the approval status of my MIP loan application?

You can (a) contact the participating banks directly, or (b) call the MIP Enquiry Hotline at 2536 0136 during office hours.

29. How does the HKMCI or bank inform the approval result?

The HKMCI will send the indicative approval result to the participating banks. These banks, in turn, will inform the applicants of the same accordingly.

30. Can I submit the MIP loan application to the HKMCI directly?

No. All the MIP loan applications must be submitted through the participating banks.

Section F: How much is the mortgage insurance premium?

31. How much is the mortgage insurance premium?

The premium amount payable by you depends on (i) the applicable Eligibility Criteria, (ii) applied LTV ratio, (iii) the loan tenor, (iv) whether you are a first time homebuyer, (v) the type of newly purchased property (i.e.: private residential property or subsidised housing), and (vi) the property value². You can refer to the Eligibility Criteria and the Premium Rate Sheet for details.

https://www.hkmc.com.hk/eng/our_business/mortgage_insurance_program_me.html

\(Premium Rate Sheet - Owner-occupied Residential Property Loans\)

\(Premium Rate Sheet – For Loans under subsidized housing\)

32. What are the premium payment options?

There are two premium payment options. Under the first option, Single Premium, the premium can be paid in one lump sum or can be financed by the principal balance of the MIP loan and repaid over the term of the loan as part of the bi-weekly or monthly repayment. With the second option, Annual Premium, the premium can be paid on an annual basis.

Section G: Things I need to know after drawdown

33. Will there be any penalty charge to be imposed by the HKMCI if I make early repayment/prepayment after the drawdown of the MIP loan?

No. The HKMCI will not charge any penalty for early repayment/prepayment. However, the mortgage insurance premium incurred would only be partially refunded under limited circumstances. In addition, you may also want to check if the bank has imposed prepayment penalty clause in respect of the mortgage loan. Please consult your bank representatives for details.

34. Should I live in the subject property during the whole mortgage period?

Unless (i) prior consent from the mortgagee bank and (ii) prior approval for the waiver of owner occupancy requirement from the HKMCI are obtained, at least one of the borrower(s)/mortgagor(s)/guarantor(s) must physically live in the property and use the property as his or her primary residence. At any time after the loan drawdown and before the lapse of MIP cover, the HKMCI has the right to request the applicant, via the bank, to declare the intended use of the property and provide documentary proof to support that the property is self-occupied. If the applicant does not fulfil the owner occupancy requirement, the bank has the right to demand full payment of the MIP loan. For the relevant topic, please refer to Q7 for details.

35. Is any prior approval required for amendment of loan terms after loan drawdown?

Yes. Prior approval from MIP banks and written consent from the HKMCI must be obtained before the amendment of loan terms after loan drawdown.

36. When will the mortgage insurance cover be terminated?

The mortgage insurance cover will be terminated if (a) the loan is prepaid in full, (b) its outstanding principal balance falls to or below the LTV threshold or (c) the terms of the cover are breached.

Section H: Completed residential properties versus properties under construction

37. Are property development projects under construction eligible for an MIP loan?

The eligible property development projects, in general, must be scheduled for completion within 12 months from the drawdown date and covered by the consent scheme.

Other than that, the HKMCI will only consider individual property development projects on a case-by-case basis. Please consult with the MIP banks to check if any specific project is eligible under the MIP.

38. I intend to buy a property under construction and defer my mortgage loan application until the completion of the property construction (i.e. by adopting stage payment method). Will I still be eligible for MIP?

You are eligible for applying for the MIP loan when the construction of the property is completed. However, the loan amount that can be secured by that time can possibly be smaller than originally planned due to a change in property valuation. Please pay attention to such risk before making a purchase.

(2) Home Ownership Scheme Secondary Market Scheme of the Hong Kong Housing Authority

NOTE:

- The following questions and answers are only applicable to mortgage loans under the Home Ownership Scheme Secondary Market Scheme (HOSSMS) of the Hong Kong Housing Authority (HA). All MIP applications are subject to assessment and approval by the HKMCI on a case-by-case basis. In case you have any queries, you are advised to contact the MIP banks and/or our customer hotline.
- Mortgage Insurance Programme for mortgage loans under HOSSMS of the HA is available to the relevant home buyers with effect from 1 March 2024.

Section A: Is MIP cover required?

1. I intend to buy a subsidised sale flat under the HOSSMS of the HA. Is MIP cover required to secure a mortgage loan from bank?

Not all the individual mortgage loans for subsidised sale flats under the HOSSMS of the HA require MIP cover. MIP cover is not required when the outstanding principal amount throughout the entire loan period is fully covered by the HA Guarantee or does not exceed the maximum LTV ratio for banks (i.e. LTV threshold) stipulated by the Hong Kong Monetary Authority. Otherwise, you may consider to apply for MIP cover with a mortgage loan up to 95% LTV ratio (for Green Form Buyers) and 90% LTV ratio (for White Form Buyers) from banks. Please consult your bank representatives to assess whether your mortgage loan application requires MIP cover.

Section B: What does the MIP cover?

B1. Eligibility Criteria

2. What is the maximum property value for MIP loan under the HOSSMS?

The maximum property value² for MIP loan under the HOSSMS is HK$15 million.

3. What is the maximum loan-to-value (LTV) ratio and maximum loan amount?

Green Form Buyers

For eligible properties with property value² up to $10 million, the maximum LTV ratio is 95%⁵. For eligible properties with property value² above $10 million and up to $15 million, the maximum LTV ratio is 80% or an LTV ratio⁵ derived from a maximum loan amount of $9.5 million, whichever the higher.

White Form Buyers

For eligible properties with property value² up to $10 million, the maximum LTV ratio is 90%⁵. For eligible properties with property value² above $10 million and up to $15 million, the maximum LTV ratio is 80% or an LTV ratio⁵ derived from a maximum loan amount of $9 million, whichever the higher.

B2. Income

4. Can I have my friend act as my guarantor to support my application?

In general, the income of guarantor (regardless of the relationship with mortgagor/borrower) will be taken into account for the purpose of supporting the DTI ratio calculation.

⁵ To be eligible for and MIP loan with an LTV ratio above 80%, please refer to Q5 of HOSSMS for details.

Section C: Am I eligible for an MIP loan with an LTV ratio above 80%?

5. What are the eligibility criteria for applying an MIP loan with an LTV ratio above 80%? What are the maximum loan amount and property value?

You are required to fulfil all of the following requirements for applying an MIP loans with LTV ratio above 80%:

- (a) you are not holding any residential properties in Hong Kong at the time of application;
- (b) you are a regular-salaried employee; and
- (c) (i) The maximum property value² is below HK$11.875 million (subject to the maximum loan amount of HK$9.5 million) for Green Form Buyers; or
(ii) The maximum property value² is below HK$11.25 million (subject to the maximum loan amount of HK$9 million) for White Form Buyers.

You can refer to the “Eligibility Criteria for Owner-occupied Residential Properties” of the HKMCI website for details.

https://www.hkmc.com.hk/eng/our_business/mortgage_insurance_program_me.html

Section D: How to apply?

6. What are required documents for MIP loan application?

In general, the following documents are required from the applicant(s):

- (a) a copy of Hong Kong identity card;
- (b) a copy of provisional sales and purchase agreement (if available);
- (c) income proof (self-declarations are not acceptable) ; and
- (d) a copy of the “Certificate of Availability for Sale” and “Certificate of Eligibility to Purchase”.

Section E: What is the amount of mortgage insurance premium discount?

7. How much mortgage insurance premium discount can I enjoy?

The extent of mortgage insurance premium discount that you can enjoy depends on (i) the remaining period of the HA's liability under HA Guarantee (with reference to the property age) and (ii) applied LTV ratio. You can refer to the Premium Rate Sheet for Subsidised Housing for the Premium Rate Discount Table applicable to HOSSMS of the HA for details.

(3) Application for Waiver of Owner Occupancy Requirement

NOTE: (1) The following questions and answers are only meant to provide general information about the new arrangement under the MIP (i.e.: waiver of owner occupancy requirement under the MIP) and may not cater for your particular circumstances. All applications for waiver of owner occupancy requirement under MIP are subject to assessment and approval by the HKMCI on case-by-case basis. In case you have any queries, you are advised to contact the mortgagee bank and/or our customer hotline.

(2) The applicant is not allowed to enter into any tenancy agreement with the tenant(s) before obtaining the prior approval of the waiver of owner occupancy requirement from both the mortgagee bank and the HKMCI.

1. I/My wife am/is currently pregnant. I plan to rent out my current MIP property and rent another suitable residential property for self-use. How can I apply for a waiver of owner occupancy requirement? What documents are required to submit?

You can submit your application to the mortgagee bank, along with (i) your signed self-declaration and undertaking (the form can be obtained from the bank) and (ii) a medical certificate* from a registered medical practitioner indicating your/your wife's pregnancy term. Upon receipt of the relevant documents, the bank will submit your application to the HKMCI to apply for the waiver.

* Medical Certificates issued by registered medical practitioners in Hong Kong, Mainland China or other countries are also accepted.

For details of the self-declaration and undertaking, please refer to the Guidance Notes for the Application of Waiver of Owner Occupancy Requirement.

2. The mortgagor has formerly breached the owner occupancy requirement by having rented out his/her MIP property without prior approval from the HKMCI. Can the mortgagor remedy his/her prior breach by way of seeking the HKMCI's consent for the waiver of owner occupancy requirement under this new arrangement?

No. If the mortgagor has rented out the MIP property without prior consent from the HKMCI, he/she has already breached the owner occupancy requirement under the MIP. The mortgagor's prior breach cannot be remedied or undone by way of seeking the HKMCI's waiver under the new arrangement. The HKMCI will take appropriate action in respect of each breach of owner occupancy requirement's case.

3. If I no longer comply with the conditions relating to the undertaking after obtaining the HKMCI's consent to rent out my MIP property, do I need to notify both the mortgagee bank and the HKMCI?

If you are unable to comply with the conditions relating to the undertaking, you must notify both the mortgagee bank and the HKMCI. The HKMCI will consider your situation on a case-by-case basis and take appropriate action (e.g. termination of the MIP coverage).

4. My MIP property was under construction at the time of purchase and I have started paying mortgage loan instalments before the building completion. Can I include my instalment/repayment period before the building completion to fulfil the condition of "the mortgagor has been residing in the relevant property for not less than 12 months with special needs"?

Unless the homeowner's family is expecting newborn(s) / adoption child(ren) or the homeowner has become unemployed, you must reside in the MIP property for not less than 12 months in order to be eligible for applying waiver of owner occupancy requirement with special needs. As the homeowner is not able to reside in the MIP property during the construction period, the repayment period before the building completion cannot be included/counted.
